

REBUILD MALABAR 2018

After the devastating Kerala flood in 2018, WMO Arts and Science College in Muttill joined hands with the District Administration of Wayanad, the Indian Institute of Architects Calicut Centre, and the District Town and Country Planning Office to conduct a comprehensive post-disaster assessment named Rebuild Kerala 2018 in August and September of that year. Seventy dedicated students from the college actively participated in the survey, diligently gathering vital data. The college's computer centre is used for consolidating and organizing the collected information. Recognizing the student's commendable efforts, the District Administration presented each participant with well-deserved appreciation letters, acknowledging their invaluable contribution to the assessment and rebuilding efforts.

Rebuild Malabar initiative aimed at documenting the post disaster scenarios and assessing the damage and losses after the great floods of 2018.

The initiative also aimed at proposing long term rebuilding strategies, considering the social, cultural and natural context, and to develop a resilience strategy that would be a strong base to develop a robust disaster response plan.
