

The Department of Chemistry organized an orientation program titled "The Going Concern" on 17th October 2022 for the first year undergraduate students. The program was led by Mr. Hashim N K, an Assistant Professor from the Department of Physics. The program aimed to introduce the students to the importance of being aware of the current state of affairs and the need for continuous learning and development. The program covered various topics such as the current trends in science and technology, the role of innovation in the field of science, and the need for interdisciplinary learning.

